Prompt Pack for Sports Social Managers

14 ready-to-use prompts for hooks, captions, planning, sponsors and reporting, including how to turn real references from the Sports Content Playbook library into your own posts.

How to use these prompts

Copy, replace the [BRACKETS], and paste into your AI assistant.

1. Give the assistant the facts. It should not invent them.
2. Ask it to separate what you gave it from what it added.
3. Read the result and verify names, numbers and dates with a source before publishing.
4. Keep the club's approval process. The AI drafts; people decide.

Four rules for sports content

- Facts only. Names, scores, dates and results come from you or an official source.
- No promises. Do not state growth or results you cannot prove.
- Respect people. Check consent for minors and sensitive situations.
- One CTA. Ask for one action per post.

The 14 prompts

13	Originality check	Learn a structure without copying a post.
14	Weekly report	A report a manager will read.

Prompts 1–3

Copy the text in the dark boxes.

1. Rewrite the hook

Turn a flat first line into three options.

```
You are a sports social media editor. Here is the first line of my post: [FIRST LINE]. Sport: [SPORT]. Audience: [FANS / PLAYERS / SPONSORS]. Write 5 alternative hooks under 12 words each. Use only facts I gave you. Do not invent stats, names or results. Mark the one you recommend and say why in one line.
```

2. Caption in 3 tones

One post, three voices.

```
Write 3 versions of this caption: [DRAFT]. Tones: (1) passionate fan, (2) professional club voice, (3) playful. Max [NUMBER] characters. Keep all facts exactly as in the draft. End with this single CTA: [CTA].
```

3. Repurpose one video

One recording, five outputs.

```
I have a [LENGTH]-second video about [TOPIC]. Create: a LinkedIn caption, a TikTok caption, a YouTube Shorts title with a keyword, an X post and a Story question. Language: [LANGUAGE]. Use only the facts in this transcript: [TRANSCRIPT].
```

Prompts 4–6

Copy the text in the dark boxes.

4. Plan the week

From calendar to posts.

```
Here are our fixtures and events for the next 7 days: [LIST]. Platforms: [LIST]. Capacity: [NUMBER] posts per week. Propose a plan: what to post each day, the format, the hook and the goal. Flag any slot where we need confirmed information before posting.
```

5. Shot list

What to film before the moment.

```
We are covering [EVENT] at [PLACE]. We have [NUMBER] people filming. Write a shot list in priority order with the exact moment, the format (vertical, 9:16) and what must be captured before the event starts.
```

6. Post-mortem

Learn from last week's posts.

```
Here are the metrics of our last [NUMBER] posts: [TABLE: format, hook, views, saves, shares, clicks]. Describe what the data shows. Separate observations from hypotheses. Do not claim a cause that the data cannot prove. Suggest 3 tests for next week.
```

Prompts 7–9

Copy the text in the dark boxes.

7. Sponsor brief

A one-page plan before the campaign.

```
Sponsor: [BRAND]. Product: [PRODUCT]. Our audience: [DESCRIPTION]. Draft a one-page activation plan with 3 content ideas that feel native to our fans, the metrics we will report (views, saves, clicks) and what we will not promise.
```

8. Comment replies

Answer fans without losing time.

```
Here are 15 comments on our latest post: [COMMENTS]. Write short replies in the club's voice ([TONE]). Skip any comment that is abusive or needs the press office. List those separately.
```

9. Crisis check

Before posting anything sensitive.

```
Situation: [FACTS CONFIRMED BY THE CLUB]. Draft 2 holding statements: one minimal, one fuller. List what must be confirmed before publishing, who must approve and what we should not say.
```

Prompts 10–12

Copy the text in the dark boxes.

10. Fact check

Never publish an unverified number.

```
Here is my draft: [DRAFT]. List every claim, number, name and date in it. For each one, say whether it came from my text or from you, and mark which ones I must verify with a source before publishing.
```

11. Translate and adapt

Not word for word.

```
Translate this post from [LANGUAGE A] to [LANGUAGE B]: [TEXT]. Adapt expressions, units and cultural references for [COUNTRY]. Keep the same facts and the same CTA. Give me one alternative for any phrase that does not travel.
```

12. Reference to plan

Turn 3 reference posts into your own post.

```
I plan to post about [MOMENT] for [CLUB/TEAM, SPORT]. Here are 3 reference posts I found in the Sports Content Playbook library: [PASTE CAPTION + ACCOUNT + DATE + VIEWS FOR EACH]. Describe what the three have in common in structure (hook, length, caption, call to action). Mark what you observe in the captions and what you assume about the video. Then propose 3 original posts for us, using only the footage and facts I list here: [FOOTAGE AND FACTS]. Do not copy any caption.
```

Prompts 13–14

Copy the text in the dark boxes.

13. Originality check

Learn a structure without copying a post.

```
Here is my draft: [DRAFT]. Here is the reference post that inspired it: [REFERENCE CAPTION]. Tell me where my draft is too close to the reference in wording or idea, and rewrite those lines so only the structure is shared. Keep all my facts.
```

14. Weekly report

A report a manager will read.

```
Here are this week's numbers: [NUMBERS]. Write a 150-word report: three results, one learning and one decision for next week. Say clearly what the data does not show.
```

Worked example: from a real reference to your own hook

How to use prompts 1 and 12 with a post from the library.

Reference (Sports Content Playbook library): @nufc, TikTok, 07/01/2026, 4.8M views. Caption: "We go again tonight".
Observed: the caption is one line, with no fixture details.
What we do not know: what the video shows, so we assume nothing about it.

Your input to the AI (prompt 12)

I plan to post about match day for a regional handball club. Reference: @nufc, TikTok, 07/01/2026, 4.8M views, caption "We go again tonight". Footage I have: warm-up clip (12 s), the coach's one-line message. Facts: kick-off 20:30, home game, 4th round. Propose 3 original posts. Do not copy the caption.

What a good answer looks like (illustrative)

"Round 4. Home. 20:30. We are ready." over the warm-up clip.

The coach's one-line message as on-screen text, with the time in the caption.

Before you publish: confirm the round, the time and the venue with the club, and check that the footage is yours. The AI does not know them.

The illustrative answers are examples of the format, not a result you should expect from your own data.

Make the prompts part of your week

A short routine for a small team.

- Monday: plan the week (prompt 4) and the shot list (prompt 5).
- Daily: hook rewrite (1), caption in 3 tones (2) and fact check (10) before publishing. When you need an idea, start from 3 reference posts (12) and run the originality check (13).
- Friday: post-mortem (6) and weekly report (14).
